

CONSENT FORM

For participation in research study titled: REVERT: REsilience without Violence, Resistance without haTe in Public transport

The present consent form is addressed to refugees and migrants, invited to participate in the research study titled “REVERT: REsilience without Violence, Resistance without haTe in Public transport” which is implemented by the Department of Media Studies and Communication of the NKUA, Athens Public Transportation (OASA), SYN-Eirmos NGO, Al Masar NGO and CMT Prooptiki as part of the REVERT project (908116), co-funded by the “Rights, Equality, and Citizenship (2014-2020)” Programme of the EU (REC-RRAC-RACI-AG-2017).

Main objective of the project is the study of the phenomenon of racist and xenophobic behaviour in public transportation and the design of an intervention to combat it.

The participation in the study is anonymous. The management and process of personal data will be carried out in accordance with the requirements set by the legislation and the regulatory framework for personal data protection, including Law 2472/1997 and the General Regulation for Data Protection.

Participation in the study is entirely voluntary and can be revoked by the participant at any time.

There will be no personal benefit from the participation. However, your participation will provide valuable information for the development of methods and practices for dealing with xenophobic and racist behavior against migrant refugees.

Research findings will be published in international journals and presented in conferences. However, no personal data will be collected during the research activity and all quotations will be used anonymously.
