

Your friend wants to borrow something, but you don't want to give it to them.

Your friend copied your homework and you're worried about getting in trouble.

Your friend made plans with someone else on the day you had plans together.

Your friend keeps interrupting you when you're trying to tell a story.

Your friend borrowed your favorite book and returned it damaged.

Your friend shared a secret you told them not to tell anyone.

Your friend always wants to choose what game to play and never listens to your ideas.

Your friend forgot your birthday but remembered another friend's birthday.

Your friend keeps making jokes about something you're sensitive about.

Your friend invited everyone to their party except you.

Your friend always asks to see your test answers, but never helps you study.

Your friend promised to help you with a project, but keeps making excuses.

Your friend keeps talking to their other friends and ignoring you during lunch.

Your friend said they would walk home with you, but left with someone else instead.

Your friend forgot to invite you to a game.