

Worksheet: My Moral Compass

Name: _____ Date: _____

Instructions: Read carefully and complete all activities. There are no right or wrong feelings—this worksheet helps you reflect and grow.

1. Match the Actions to Virtue or Vice

Write V (Virtue) or C (Vice) next to each action.

1. Helping a classmate who is sad or lonely. _____
2. Feeling happy when someone else fails. _____
3. Sharing your food with someone who forgot theirs. _____
4. Refusing to forgive and planning revenge. _____
5. Trying harder when someone does better than you. _____
6. Laughing at another person's mistake. _____

2. When Is Forgiveness Hard?

Write about one situation where forgiveness can be difficult.

3. From Envy to Motivation

Envy can be turned into motivation. Write one way you can do this.

Example: If someone gets better grades, I can study more and ask for help.

My answer:

4. Draw a Symbol of Compassion

In the space below, draw a symbol that shows compassion or kindness (for example: a heart, helping hands, light, or people supporting each other).

Reflection:

One virtue I want to practice more is: _____